THE NEWEST WEED PEST.

Something About the Devil's Paint Brush and How to Destroy It—Pomona Grange Meeting at Smithfield. Pomona Picnic at Troy Fair Grounds

(All communications to this column should be addressed to A. T. Lilley, LeRoy, Pa.)

Reports from many of the Bradford county granges show continued activity during the harvest season. Many additions are being received. The new hall at North Orwell was occupied on the Fourth of July. The foundation for a new hall has been built by Iona Grange in Burlington township and the prospects are favorable for comfortable and convenient rooms during the coming winter.

The Pomana meeting to be held at East Smithfield the middle of August ought to be well attended. The busy part of the harvest season will have passed and many questions of interest will be introduced for discussion.

The annual picnic for Pomona district No .23 is to be held at the Troy Fair grounds on the 6th of September. A. L. Martin, director of Farmers' Institutes will be present to address the farmers on questions of much importance. A good program is being prepared and a large attendance is expected. The program will be announced as soon as completed. This meeting is designed for any and all who are directly interested in agriculture and its pursuit, and it is hoped that all who are thinking about joining the grange will be present and listen to the discussions of the day, it may be very satisfying.

Scarcely a year passes without new pests for the farmer to struggle with. Among the latest to appear is the devil's paint brush. It may be seen on the mountains in Canton township in vast numbers. Some who have it to contend with say it cannot be destroyed but this does not appear to be true if attended to at its first appearance. Experience has taught us that it is very much more easily exterminated than the white daisy or the Canada thistle. It is not difficult to pull and readily seen before going to seed. If pulled and burned before going to seed it would soon be edestroyed. When it has fully occupied an old pasture it can be destroyed by keeping it cut before blooming. Each and every farmer may keep this pest in check of he will only attend to it. It spreads very rapidly on thin sandy sonl but is easily exterminated if taken in time. Do not pull or cut the plants and leave them on the ground unburned. If you do a very peculiar orange colored field will be presented to your view. In unity there is strength is as true in the aim to destroy this pest as in any other but it can be done and it is hoped that each patron at least, will do his best to destroy it

The museum work of the Bradford Count Historical society calls to mind many talks that have been heard along the lines of nature study during the past few years. So far as learned, but few among the many who have examined the log house, could be sure of the kinds of timber in it. As we see it, it would be interesting to have specimens of the wood of all native trees of the county, having the bark and leaves associated with its proper timber, exhibited at the museum. With such an object lesson many would become very much interested. The botanical names as well as the common, should be placed on each specimen. Leaves gathered in September or first part of October may be so preserved as to retain their form and beauty many years. Our school teachers and lecturers in the grange have fine opportunities to aid in giving information to their pupils, that will cause them to be well informed on many questions of forestry. The managers of our county fairs, also, might lend a helping hand along this line of education .The interest that has already been started in this subject might be so intensified that a more thorough knowledge of botanical questions may be gained by all lovers of the beauties of nature and also those who only took for the dollars that may be gained.

The law of the association, to gain strength, pervades all activities of nature and its fellow worker, disintegration, is everywhere to be found undoing what has been done giving opportunity for new association. Thus they go side by side through the long vistas of time, so the greater the work accomplished the greater the opportunity for destruction that follows. Change is the constant rule of nature, no such thing as "standing still." Man, a creature of nature, is governed by the same laws of the builder and the destroyer. In matters of state, religion or any of the great industries, the one builds and the other works for division. In this great world of ours it is contrary to nature that all things shall be fixed on an unchangeable basis and it is well that is so. A birthday view of the world activities would present a vivid scene of the ups and downs of man's work if presented to show his progression since he was first placed on this stage of action. Every person of every society has a mission that he should fill well but this cannot be done without work. The idler in any cause soon drops and is gathered up by some other active association where he may again be left a wanderer.

HAYMAKERS' STATISTICS.

Association Increasing Rapidly All Over the State.

At the recent convention of the Haymakers' Association of Pennsylvania, which was held in Hanover, State Chief Haymaker L. E. Shaw, of Philadelphia, submitted an interesting annual report which showed that twenty-three "lofts" were instituted during the past year and that the association is increasing rapidly, not only in Pennsylvania, but in every State in the Union, as well as in the Philippines and Porto Rico. The State Association now comprises 260 "lofts," representing a membership of over 13,000.

The association made an appropriation for the entertainment of the national association, which will meet in Philadelphia on August 12. The next meeting of the State association will be held at Sunbury in July, 1906.

The Haymakers are an auxiliary of the Red Men, organized principally for fun and good fellowship. These officers were installed here for the ensuing year by Past National Chief Haymaker Shallcross, of Coatesville; Past state chief haymaker, L E. Shaw, Philadelphia; state chief Haymaker, George W. Sassaman, Reading; state vice-chief Haymaker, George W. Price, Philadelphia; state collector of straws, C. C. Williams, Philadelphia; state keeper of bundles, C. L. Jones, Philadelphia; first farmer, C. P. Unangst, Bethlehem; state guard of hay loft, Frederick Souders, Mt. Holly; state guard of the barndoor, B. F. Hertz, Philadelphia.

MAY SEE ROOSEVELT.

Special Train From Towanda to Sayre to Run on August 10.

Through the efforts of Hon. Mial E. Lilley a special train has been secured to run from Towanda to Sayre and return on the evening of Aug. 10, on which date President Roosevelt passes through this section from Wilkesbarre. Mr. Lilley endeavored to have the president's special stop here for a few minutes, but was unable to secure the coveted favor for the town.

The special train will leave Washington street, Towanda at 8 o'clock, and returning leave Sayre about 10:30. The fare for the round trip will be 55 cents, about half rate. The president will reach Sayre about 9 o'clock, and is expected to make a very brief address from the rear of his train.

An Up to Date Daily.

The Towanda Daily Review is certainly an up to date daily. On Tuesday last it issued a "Noon Edition," on account of the execution of Bigler Johnson. Before the official spectators were released from the jail yard the Review was on sale on the street with a well written seven column illustrated account of the affair. No "city daily" can beat that record for either speed or enterprise.—Elmira Telegram.

Succeeding in Chicago.

A. E. Davies, head of the Mokena Spring Water Company of Chicago, an enterprise he established a year ago and which is flourishing finely, is visiting his father, Rev. B. T. Davies, at Troy. Mr. Davies was for 15 years in the street railway service of Chicago, during which he rose from motorman to be general manager of two important companies.

An enjoyable dance was held at the Lake Wesauking hotel on Saturday evening. About 25 couples went up from Towanda and a number of young people at the hotel joined with them in dancing to a program of 14 numbers played by McHenry's orchestra of this place. Refreshments were served.

MASS CELEBRATED.

By Rev. A. J. Brennan, D. D., in St. Agnes Hall.

YOUNG MAN'S FINE RECORD.

A Towanda Boy Who Won Honors in His Study For the Priesthood in Rome—Reception Tendered Him on Sunday Afternoon—His Record.

Sunday was a red letter day in the life of Rev. Andrew J. Brennan of Towanda. At 10 o'clock, in the auditorium of St. Agnes hall, he celebrated his first solemn high mass in his native town. The hall was crowded to the doors with a congregation come to do honor to a young man who won signal honors in his studies for the priesthood. The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers and ferns. Two schoolmates of Father Brennan assisted, Rev. P. J. McHugh of Honesdale, as deacon, and Rev. George J. Jones of Rochester, as sub-deacon. Rev. James Foster of Towanda was master of ceremonies. Rev. J. J. Coroner, rector of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, preached a sermon "The Sublime Dignity of Priesthood." Other priests in the sanctuary were Rev. M. J. Dunn of Wilkesbarre, Rev. P. J. MacArdle of Auburn, N. Y., and Rev. M. J. O'Rourke of Athens. Four brothers of Father Brennan acted as ushers.

Prof. F. D. Deming, the church organist, arranged the following musical program for the occasion: Kyrie, Farmer; Gloria, Farmer; Credo, Ganss; Offertory, Ave Maria, Millard, Mrs. McKenna; Sanctus, Millard; Benedictus, Millard; Agnus Dei, Ganss.

The regular choir under the leadership of the organist, F. D. Deming, was assisted by Mrs. McKenna of New Haven, Conn.

Yesterday afternoon a reception was tendered the young priest at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Brennan, on Pratt avenue. A large number of relatives and friends among whom were eight priests, attended to pay him their respects.

Rev. Andrew J. Brennan, D. D.

Andrew J. Brennan, a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brennan of Towanda, was born December 14, 1877. He attended St. Agnes school where he received the fundamental principles of his education, and was a leader in his studies and conspicuous for his sterling qualities, and also showed an inclination for the life of the priesthood. He attended Holy Cross college in Worcester, Mass., from which he received a four years' course and graduated with honors in 1900, receiving several medals. After that he entered St. Bernard Seminary at Rochester, N. Y., to take up theological studies, and remained one year. In 1901, Father Brennan sailed for Rome, Italy, where he entered the American College, the institution which has been the educator of so many fervent and learned men. His success was so conspicuous that European papers paid glowing tribute to him, which were afterward published. He was awarded a handsome gold medal for cannon law and several other honors of excellency. These prizes were contested for by hundreds of young men, educated in the highest institutions of Europe, and this was a signal triumph. Father Brennan was ordained December 17, 1904, but tarried at the college to have the degree of doctor of divinity conferred on him in June.

His studies over, Father Brennan then toured Europe prior to his departure to the land of his birth. In his travels in Ireland he visited the native home of his father and brought as a souvenir a cane of blackthorn. Last week Saturday he arrived in New York, where he was greeted by his father and mother who bade him farewell four years ago, and other relatives and friends. After a short visit at Flushing, Father Brennan, accompanied by his cousin, Thomas Brennan, arrived in Towanda Wednesday afternoon. He will assume the duties of a priest in the Scranton diocese next month.

Copperhead in Lap.

Miss Tillie Rough, of Berwick, one of a party of young women camping near Almedia, took a nap in a hammock swung between two trees. When she awoke she was horrified to find a copperhead snake coiled in her lap. Her screams for help brought Misses Katherine Grany and Edith Phillips to her assistance. They advised her to lie still and then they killed the snake with clubs. Miss Rough escaped injury save a few bruises from the blows which missed the snake.

At the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal church in Towanda, on Monday, July 31, Charles D. Payne of Auburn, N. Y., and Beulah E. F. Page of Syracuse, were married by the pastor, Rev. O. A. Houghton, D. D.

TYPOS TAKE TRIP OVER SUSQUEHANNA & NEW YORK.

Towanda Printing Company Force Went to Ralston Saturday.

The office force of the Towanda Printing company together with the six regular carrier boys enjoyed an outing on Saturday. The party left on the Susquehanna & New York train at 1:20 and went through to Ralston, returning to Towanda on the 5:58 train, which, however did not arrive here until close to 6:30. In the party were D. M. Turner, E. B. McKee, C. L. Humphrey, Charles H. Allen, C. T. Smith, Albert C. Scheufler, Harry E. Post, Foster E. Wolfe, Clarence A. Benedict of the office force and the following carrier boys: Galen Osborne, Arthur Badger, Arthur Carroll, Charles Cox, Henry Butts and Walter McNeal. Howard Smith, son of C. T. Smith, also accompanied the printers.

The picturesque trip over this picturesque road never looked prettier than it did on Saturday with the sun shining on the rain covered fields and the dense forests. No stops were made en route but busy Laquin was seen peeping out of the woods and log loaders, dinky engines and hundreds of logs peeled bare of their bark shone out to those who were looking at things.

The party walked around Ralston for a quarter of an hour and then homeward. An interesting incident of the visit to Ralston is the fact that the town is the birthplace of Harry E. Post, who came to Towanda from Schenectady, N. Y., where his mother now lives. At Cold Springs a stop was made on a switch to allow the 3:35 to pass. There was enough time to explore into some of the curious things there. Most of the boys went down to an open air oven where immense loaves of bread were being baked. Seventeen of these mammoth pieces of the staff of life lay basking in the sun and more were "on the fire." Here, too, dusky Italian women watched the cars from their house doors or came down near the tracks, bearing dirty babies in their arms and implanting on their unwilling faces dirty kisses. The Cold Spring station is a log house, the back part of which constitutes the living rooms of the operator. Notice was taken of the big drop as the train runs down the mountain side south of Ellenton and takes its tortuous path until its destination is reached. At Ralston the boys got a fine large watermelon which was taken into the smoker and devoured with the beautiful scenery along the line. Everybody had a good time and saw many things worth remembering.

"FOUR-DAY FEVER" SPREADING.

Hundreds of Cases in the Panther Creek Valley.

The strange disease that is known as "Four-day Fever" is spreading steadily throughout the Panther Creek Valley. Lansford, Summit Hill, Coal Dale and Nesquehoning have hundreds of cases of the malady. So general has the contagion become that the Tamaqua & Lansford Street Railway company is to a certain extent crippled by the fact that many of its motormen and conductors are afflicted and unable to be on duty. All the available extra men are now at work and if the ravages of the disease continues a serious condition will be created.

While there has not as yet been any deaths from the contagion it is a noticeable fact that it is manifesting itself in a more violent form as it becomes more and more prevalent. Many people are seized with the disease suddenly and compelled to take to their beds. Within an hour they have a high fever which continues with unabaded violence for four days. The disease is usually accompanied by violent fits of vomiting which leaves the afflicted persons so weak that it takes considerable time before they recover their wonted strength.

In this section many cases of a similar nature have developed of late.

Storm Damage in Western Bradford.

During the destructive wind and hail storm which passed over Western Bradford Sunday afternoon a large barn belonging to F. C. Schradder, of Armenia, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, one horse being killed by the bolt. All the contents of the barn except the hay were saved and there was a small insurance on the barn.

The hail which accompanied the storm did serious damage near Minnequa, practically destroying some whole crops.

TOWANDA VS. TROY.

County Seat Team Defeated at Base Ball Friday Afternoon.

A SWIFT TEN INNING GAME.

The Best Played and Most Exciting Contest on the Local Diamond This Year—Won By Troy With a Score of 4 to 3—Parsons's Great Pitching.

Troy came over from the half shire town Friday afternoon and took Towanda into camp at base ball by a score of 4 to 3 in a ten-inning game. There was a small crowd out at the beginning of the game but before it was over a good sized crowd got their money's worth in a close, stiff battle between old rivals in the national game.

Towanda made a run in the first. Klinko hit for two bases. Backus fanned. J. Madigan hit safe but Klinko was caught at third. M. Madigan got first on a muff at second. J. Madigan made his third on a passed ball. Kline hit, Lent muffed the ball at short and Madigan scored.

Troy took one in the third inning, Brace and McVoy hit safe. Brace was caught at home plate but McVoy came in on Bress's hit. Towanda also scored in the third. Klinko got first on balls. Backus was hit by pitched ball. J. Madigan hit and Klinko scored but Backus was caught at third. M. Madigan fanned. This made the score 2 to 1 in Towanda's favor. Things looked warm and Cotter and Parsons were having a battle in the box for supremacy.

Towanda got another in the fourth. Putnam hit for two bases, then Downey singled. Lynch flied out to right and Cotter got first on fielder's choice, Putnam getting in home. Downey was caught out at home on Klinko's hit. Troy tied the score in the fifth by making two scores. Lent hit for two bags. Williams fanned, Brace hit and Lent scored. McVoy went out on fly to Cotter. While Bress was batting Brace came in on a passed ball.

This wound up the scoring until the first half of the tenth inning when Troy made one. Brace got first on M. Madigan's muff at third. McVoy hit. Bress fanned. B. Parsons hit to short. J. Parsons got first on fielder's choice and Brace was nailed at home plate. Lynch then tried to double J. Parsons at first and then McVoy ran for home. Backus threw the ball but McVoy got in.

Towanda made a hard effort to tie the score but couldn't turn the trick. Backus fanned. J. Madigan got first on balls, M. Madigan flied out to third. Kline hit but Madigan was thrown out at second from short.

Towanda did some poor work on the bases and might have won had better head work been used. Errors were not absent from either side but the game was a hard fought one and exciting all the way through. For Troy Parsons in the box and Brace in his running and batting and McVoy in batting and catching especially distinguished themselves. Cotter pitched in fine form for Towanda but was not given the kind of support in the field or in running the bases needed to win a game .J. Madigan made three hits for Towanda, Klinko a two bagger and Kline a two bagger and single, and Putnam a two bagger.

Athens Man Loses by Fire at Bath.

A building in Bath, N. Y., owned by Joseph Watson of Athens, and occupied by E. Clark Beers as a fruit and confectionery store, was burned early Monday morning, occupants of the building barely escaping in their night clothes. The loss on the building was $1,500, with an insurance of $900, and the stock was also partially insured. Appearances indicate the fire was of incendiary origin.

A lightning rod will not prevent a barn from burning up if the mow is filled with half cured clover hay.

There is a good deal of lamb served at our hotels and restaurants which reminds one of the old maid of forty who passed herself off as a sweet young thing of nineteen.

The heavy draft horse is just as much in demand today as though there was not a steam engine or an automobile in use. We do not believe the horse will ever be displaced by any machine.

We believe that there are more men who would like to find out some easy way to get rid of quack grass than any other farm nuisance. The best way to get rid of it is never to let it get a foothold if possible.

As a general thing the trolley roads are showing up well so far as returning a fair interest on the money invested. These roads create lots of new business. The cheaper the fare, the more people ride.

If business men would collect what is due them with the same degree of promptness which marks the boy who mows your lawn, there would be fewer business failures. The boy is always Johnny on the spot for his pay.

Wherever sheep and hogs are kept rape is one of the most valuable forage plants which can be raised on the farm, and yet not one man in ten raises it. The very best use to make of last season's hog yard is to sow it to rape.

A lawyer whose mind became unsettled took the queer notion of going out into the country and hired out as a farmhand. If this thing should spread it might help solve the problem of help on the farm and would not hurt the cities any, either.

If a pasture is to be kept in good heart and free from weed growth there should always seem to be room for more stock in it, a surplus of grass. Just as soon as a pasture is fed bare the grass roots are weakened, and every chance is given for the weeds to get a good start.

If you have a farm and wish to keep it as an investment and not work it yourself the worst possible way in which to handle it is to rent it out from year to year to Tom, Dick and Harry to skin. A good farm deserves better treatment than this. Make a long lease with a good man.

We are asked how large a silo should be built to meet the needs of an average eighty acre farm. We would try one about twenty feet high and sixteen feet in diameter to start with. This will hold the product of about ten acres of corn, which converted into silage will make an immense amount of most valuable and palatable food.

A scientific writer, referring to zinc, makes the assertion that milk set in zinc vessels will produce 12 per cent more cream than it will set in tin vessels. While we cannot say that this is not so, we can say that we do not believe it. Unless some chemical action was set up between the zinc and the milk the kind of metal used could make no difference, and if there was such action it would surely be to the injury of the milk.

It is said that buff colored eggs will keep longer than white eggs, the reason given being that they have a thicker shell. The Brahmas, Cochins and their kind lay the dark eggs, while the Leghorn, Houdan and Spanish fowls lay the white ones. The flavor of an egg is almost wholly dependent upon the food of the fowls. The finest lot of eggs we ever saw, and the largest as well, were the product of a lot of Buff Cochin hens.

The west has come to what may be called a three and four horse type of agriculture—the doing of all the farm work just as far as possible with a large type of machinery, which requires three or four horses to operate. The gang plow, the twenty-four foot harrow, the six foot mower, the three row cultivator, the potato digger and many other appliances represent how the machine has displaced the hired man, the horse being more dependable than the man.

Fly time is here and with it almost untold misery for the dairy cow unless some steps are taken to protect her. Some dairymen are following the plan of keeping their cows in a darkened basement barn from about 9:30 a. m. until sundown and then giving them the run of the pasture during the night and early morning. While in the barn they are fed liberally with some green soiling crop, such as clover, silage, sweet corn, with the result that so cared for there is no shrinkage in the milk yield. The common way is to turn them into a pasture, good or bad, as the case may be, and let them stand bunched on some knoll or in some pond half submerged all through the heat of the day, and no sensible cow will run a dividend paying milk factory under such conditions.

ABOUT SHEEP.

We have several inquiries as to the sheep business, how to get started, best breed to get and where to buy. It is not a good time now to go into the business on anything like a large scale, for the sheep and its products are high priced, and, then, any man not used to keeping sheep should go slow in starting with a big flock. No one animal on the farm varies more in price than sheep. One year they may be worth $5 a head and the next a dollar and a half. The time to buy them is when every man who has them wants to get rid of them. Again, not all farms are adapted to sheep. Level and wet farms are not suited to them. They like the hills and the rolling land. They must be specially fenced against or be herded under a shepherd, and they cannot be successfully pastured with other stock. For a large part of the prairie country there is no better way than for three or four farmers to co-operate and buy a flock of sheep and keep them under the care of a shepherd all through the grazing season. In this way each man gets the benefit derived from the sheep as a weed exterminator and land fertilizer, and they can be run anywhere where there is good feed for them. This plan saves all bother about fencing and prevents many losses which occur when they are not under the constant eye of a shepherd. Thousands of sheep could be kept all over the northwest and kept very largely on grass roughage and weeds which without them would be an entirely waste product.

We are asked how much honey will a good strong hive of bees secure in a day when the bee pasture is at its best. We do not know, but we have a friend whose bees have made three pounds a day when the white clover was in bloom.

It is telling a very old story, but there is nothing which is worth so much in August for the dairy cow as a patch of sweet corn upon which she can draw liberally during the dry dog days. So fed, she will hold up her flow of milk instead of shrinking.

Some one fond of statistics has figured out that if the Chinese consumed as much meat per capita as do the Americans there would have to be in that kingdom 440,000,000 cattle, 415,000,000 hogs and 400,000,000 sheep, but the Celestial has rats and dogs, which we do not use.

The black currant is seldom grown in this country. In England it is considered the best of all the currants and the jam made from it is considered a standard delicacy. We do not know that there is any reason why it cannot be raised just as well as the other varieties, though it is a somewhat shy bearer.

It is one thing to raise a big crop of clover and another and much harder one to secure it in good shape. Where the writer lives one of the biggest crops of clover ever raised has been damaged 50 per cent by the almost daily rains and by the rotting of the clover before cutting by its forming a mat on the ground.

A pair of registered draft mares could be made a very profitable investment on almost any farm, where horses are kept. There is no reason on earth why nearly all the high priced sires should be imported from Europe. We no longer import many bulls, having just as fine animals here as there are to be found in any country. We might just as well raise our own horses.

On general principles it is always unsafe to hire a tramp for a farm hand. In the first place, they will not work if they can help it; then they are almost sure to quit you just when you need them the worst and are quite likely to make off with some of your property at that. Then it is an imposition on the wife to take one of the dirty brutes into the house. No tramp labor for us at any price.

Mourning doves, meadow larks and robins, which are protected by law at all seasons in the northern states where they breed, are common game birds for the southern states where they winter. This is unfair. If it is right to slaughter these birds for food in the south, the north, which raises them, should have the same right. As a matter of fact, it is all wrong to kill them at all, as each variety does most valuable work as either weed seed or insect destroyers.

We have discovered two leaks which explain some of the economic poverty of the masses in our cities. Twelve hundred and fifty dollars was dropped into the slot machines of a western city on one Saturday night. A druggist in the same city told us on the following Monday that his sales of cigars, pop, ice cream and this sort of stuff were $50 on the Sunday. No wonder some people have holes in their stockings and have to pawn their overcoats. This, mind you, is respectable foolishness. There is the saloon and gambling crowd besides. Poverty comes as the most natural thing in the world under such conditions.

This man thought a great deal of his wife, and she got a fit to keep poultry, so the hens were bought, the yard fixed up and great care taken in feeding the fowls. Still being in the winter season, no eggs. Wife feeling very bad. Man goes uptown and buys some eggs and slips at first one or two eggs in the nests. Wife, oh-be-joyful; hens begun to lay. More eggs go into the nests. Wife brags on her hens to neighbors; great lot of hens, and commences to give her intimate friends some of the eggs. One day overhauls a drawer where her hubby's clothes are kept and finds a sack of eggs, the sack with the local grocer's name on it. Commences to smell a rat. No more bragging on her poultry.

THAT FIELD OF ALFALFA.

The following suggestion with reference to securing a field of alfalfa for the territory of Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin may be of value: Take a piece of land from which a crop of barley, oats or winter wheat has been removed, fertilize it with about ten or twelve two horse loads of manure, plow, disk and harrow thoroughly to get as fine a seed bed as possible and then sow during the first ten days of August twenty pounds of alfalfa seed to the acre. With favorable weather the alfalfa will make a growth this fall of nearly one foot, which should be allowed to remain on the ground during the winter. Next year it will give three crops. By this method two things are secured—the alfalfa has no fight with the weeds, and there is no loss of a year in the use of the land. This plan is well worth trying by any one desiring to get a field of this most valuable legume. Try two acres for a hog pasture if for nothing else.

EAT MORE CORN.

It would be well for their pocketbooks and better for their general health if the American people would use more corn. We are slaves to edibles made of refined flour of wheat. That more corn is not used is not so much that the people do not like the many delicate and savory dishes which may be prepared from it as that so few cooks know anything about the preparation of corn foods. There are immense possibilities in a well cooked johnnycake, in a loaf of injun bread, in corn cakes, in corn mush eaten with milk and cream, 'alf and 'alf; in corn dodgers and pancakes, in an injun pudding stuffed with fat raisins, in fried mush, samp and hominy. Better digestion, better teeth, more vim and energy would come with more of a corn diet, and then, withal, it is ever so much cheaper. Then, if one must smoke, it is said that there is nothing better than an old corncob pipe.

SCREENINGS.

A few years ago the grain buyers of the northwest used to make a great roar and dockage in grain bought because of the wild mustard which it might contain. While they dock just as heavily as formerly, they do not kick, for they are able to sell the mustard seed for a good deal more than the wheat, oats or flax, the mustard later appearing at 40 cents a pound on the table of the man who raised it. The screenings and weed seed which are furnished by the mills of the northwest to feed and fatten hundreds of thousands of sheep every winter are a pure gift by the farmer for this purpose, the dockage demanded by the mills making it cost them nothing. The moral of this is that it does not pay the farmer to raise weeds and mustard, though lots of them do, and, doing it, it would pay them to clean their grain and feed the screenings to sheep at home.

ALCOHOL FOR POWER.

The certainty that the gas engine is to become more and more an important factor in the transportation methods of the future as well as in furnishing a cheap and safe power for all purposes suggests the need of providing a cheap gas making material. This can be found in alcohol, which can be produced in this country for 10 cents a gallon, but which is now barred from use by the revenue laws of the country. Some congressman can render the country at large a lasting service by making an effort to secure such legislation as will permit of the use of alcohol for light, heat and power purposes, for it grinds the average citizen to have to pay 18 cents for gasoline when oil is selling at 37 cents for fifty-two gallons. Nothing would break down the power of the worst monopoly which the country fosters like substituting alcohol for coal oil products.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

Commercial Tendencies Still In Direction of Improvement.

New York, July 28.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Commercial tendencies are still in the direction of improvement, although progress is hampered by some inflation prices for the raw matrials of textile and footwear industries. Confidence expands as the crops are secured, each day putting a large quantity of grain beyond danger and making sensational rumors of loss less effective. Weather conditions have been favorable for retail distribution, reduced stocks in the hands of dealers being reflected in enlarged wholesale and jobbing demands. Evidences of faith in the future are increasing, more disposition being shown to provide for requirements beyond immediate consumption. The industrial situation is in striking contrast to conditions prevailing a year ago, when there was much idleness, both on account of quiet trade and labor controversies.

Foreign commerce at this port for the last week was almost identical with the results in 1904. Traffic interests begin to feel the pressure of crops, but facilities have proved ample thus far, and railway earnings in July were 9 per cent larger than in the same time last year. Money is rendered easy by liberal foreign loans, and bank exchanges at New York for the week were 22.8 per cent larger than last year, while at other leading cities there was a gain of 18.1 per cent.

Liabilities of commercial failures thus far reported for July amounted to $5,528,926, of which $3,091,296 were in manufacturing, $1,727,240 in trading and $710,390 in other commercial lines. Failures for the week numbered 214 in the United States against 220 last year and 27 in Canada compared with 18 a year ago.

Mrs. Fitzgerald is also an efficient worker and her many friends are praying and hoping that she may receive her health again so that she can carry otu the desire of her heart which is to be a helper in advancing Chirst's kingdom at this place.

Fraud Exposed.

A few counterfeiters have lately been making and trying to sell imitations of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, and other medicines, thereby defrauding the public. STATE RAISING FROGS.

It Is Sending Out 300,000 from Pleasant Mount Hatchery.

The largest lot of frogs ever grown in captivity in this state is now being distributed from the Pleasant Mount hatchery, in Wayne county. Fish Commissioner Meehan decided last year to add frog culture to the service rendered by the fish commission, and a few were raised at the Corry and the Erie hatcheries and distributed. The experiment was successful, and frog raising, it was decided, should also be tried at the new Pleasant Mount station. There the frog crop has been entirely successful, and the 300,000 that were raised are now being sent out. This gratifying result was attained through the capable work of N. R. Buller.

These frogs will be the only ones the people will get from the state this year, as the experiment proved a failure this season, both at Erie and Corry. At Erie an epidemic got in among the pollywogs, and at Corry more than 100,000 small frogs were eaten by the snakes.

The process of raising young frogs is exceedingly interesting. When four or five days old they are ready to ship and are from 1½ to 2 inches long. When twelve days old they are worth two cents a piece for bass bait, so there is money in raising frogs if one knows how, since it is possible to grow 2,000,000 of them to the acre.

The frogs are shipped in cans of 400 each, packed simply in wet moss.

The 300,000 on hand are not nearly enough to supply the requistions, which come from every county. Fish Commissioner Meehan will in the fall issue bulletins from the reports of the superintendents of the fish hatcheries, giving their experience at frog raising, for the benefit and instruction of the public.

The raising of frogs is easier than the raising of poultry. A frog a week old planted now will be fit for the table next year, and in two years will be a "monster."

Two kinds of frogs, the greenheads and the western, were raised at the hatchery, but the greenhead is preferred by epicures. The market price of edible frogs is from $1.50 to $3 a dozen.

The Troy Gazette-Register of last week intimates that an arrest may be made any day in the Policeman Fenner murder case. Following an article on the young suspect who is in jail at Port Jervis, N Y., and of whose guilt the paper appears to question, the Gazette-Register says: "While this not ill-looking young man may have shot Edward Fenner, it is far more probable that the crime was committed by a man here who is daily going in and out among an outraged people and who any day may be taken into custody and made to tell where he was and what he was doing between the hours of 2 and 3 on the morning of June 17. Popular belief in his guilt is daily growing stronger, and it is quite propable that before another issue of the Gazette-Register is sent out he will be behind the bars, along with Charley Johnson and others in Towanda jail."

THIS MAN'S MYSTERIOUS POWER HEALS WHEN ALL OTHERS FAIL

DEFEATS DEADLY DISEASES.

Cures Hundreds by New and Marvelous Methods of Treatment.

MAKES THE LAME WALK AND THE DEAF HEAR.

And Performs Other Seeming Miracles That Pass Understanding—Do Disease He May Not Cure.

HAS HE SUPERNATURAL GIFTS?

Discards Useless Drugs and Medicines, Yet Heals Hopeless Invalids Pronounced Incurable by Physicians.

Offers Services and Home Treatment Free of Charge to Rich and Poor Alike—Believes It His Duty to God and Man to Labor for the Sick and Afflicted Who Stand in Need.

New York, Aug. 1.—(Special Correspondence.)—The mysterious healing power of Professor Wallace Hadley of this city, which enables him to cure hopeless invalids when doctors, drugs and all other means have failed, has aroused widespread wonder and comment in all circles, physicians and scientists being as much in the dark for an explanation as those outside the medical profession.

Various attempts to discover this man's secret have failed, since he has refused to disclose the source of his most marvelous control over disease and his strange power to stay the clutch of death. Yet the proven facts and evidences show that in hundreds of instances when patients have been pronounced hopelessly incurable and given up to death by doctors, Professor Hadley has restored them to health so easily and quickly that it borders closely upon the miraculous or divine. These cures are the more strange and startling since it is known that he has discarded the useless drugs usually prescribed by physicians and accomplishes these marvels by a new and wonderful method of treatment unlike any heretofore known to science. Indeed, one woman goes so far as to state that Professor Hadley made her heart beat again in her body when she was prepared for the grave, and he has performed dozens of other seeming miracles of healing in the face of death. He claims that there is no disease he may not cure, and there is every reason to believe that this claim, startling as it is, is no more than the literal truth, since the records show that he has cured cancer, consumption, paralysis, deafness and other diseases supposed to be incurable, with the same ease and certainty that he cured stomach and kidney troubles, rheumatism, catarrh and the more common ailments that human flesh is heir to.

Powerful and peculiar as is Professor Hadley's ability, an almost equally remarkable thing about this man is the fact that he gives his treatment free of charge to rich and poor alike, devoting himself to the relief of afflicted humanity independent of fees or reward. He is quoted as saying that he looks upon this power he possesses as a divine gift, and that he feels it his duty as a Christian to help all who stand in need, without attempting to extort money for his services.

During a recent interview with Professor Hadley the eminent scientist firmly but courteously declined to discuss the secret of the power that he holds, but finally was induced to speak of some of the almost miraculous cures he has made. Speaking of the case of Joseph R. Stewart of Camden, N. J., one of his recent patients, Professor Hadley said: "Mr. Stewart had been told by various physicians that he had cancer of the stomach, complicated with kidney disease and bowel trouble; that his case was incurable and beyond the reach of medicine, and that he must make the most of what little life was left to him before death claimed him. He suffered most terrible agonies and was on the verge of the grave when he applied to me as a last resort. Notwithstanding what the doctors had said, I accepted the case, put him under my treatment and cured him. Today he is worth a good many dead men, and in a recent letter to me speaks of his cure as a miracle. Then there was the case of Mrs. M. Worthington of Centre Square, Pa. For twenty-five years she had been a hopeless invalid from complicated female troubles, many long months bedridden in hospitals, and pronounced hopelessly incurable and given up to die by all her physicians. But she put her faith in me, threw away her old medicines, and is today the picture and reality of perfect health. I took up the case of Mr. E. C. Bass of El Campo, Tex., after the doctors had given him up to death and could do nothing to revive him. Brought to this condition by the combined attack of kidney and liver diseases, dropsy and articular rheumatism, he suffered the torments of the damned and was almost insane with pain. Doctors and their medicines failed utterly. But I did not fail. I cured him. I restored him to life and health without his even knowing just how it was done. Then recently I received this letter from Mrs. E. C. McManus of Ellison, Ala., which will give you an idea of how my patients regard my power to cure." The writer copied Mrs. McManus's letter, which, word, for word, is as follows: "At last I am free from pain and disease, at last my health is restored, and to me it seems little short of a miracle that you could absolutely cure any one as sick as I was. When you made me well again you cured catarrh of the stomach and bowels, liver and kidney diseases, female trouble and piles. All these you cured, as I am the living witness. I am so thankful to you for all you have done for me, for all you saved me from, I would have died without your treatment. May God bless you and your good work" And one from C. S. Harrell of Cato, Ark., reads: "You seem to know just what the trouble is and just how to cure it. Hereafter I am through with quack doctors and their useless drugs, for they are not worth a pinch of salt compared with your treatment. I was sick so long with liver and kidney disease and stomach trouble that all the blood seemed gone from my body, and I looked like a corpse ready for burial. I was so weak and suffered so much and so constantly that I could not work on my farm as I needed to. Now I am feeling wonderfully different. You have driven the disease out of my body, as you promised, and I assure you that I am most thankful for it. I feel that you saved my life."

"Cases come to me from all over the country," continued the Professor, "that have baffled some of the best physicians and specialists, where one doctor has said the trouble was one thing and the next something else, until the patients were at a loss to know what disease they really were suffering from. Is it any wonder that sufferers fail to get well when they are not only treated for the wrong disease, but also given useless medicines on the hit-or-miss plan? But I am able to make a correct and careful diagnosis of each case that comes to me, and, seeing the cause, apply the power to cure."

"But how about those who cannot afford to come to New York to have you treat them?"

"It does not make the slightest difference. I cure them in their own homes just as easily and just as surely as if I went to them or they came to me. Distances cannot weaken the healing power I have. All that any one who is ill in any way, from any cause, has to do is to write me a letter, addresing Wallace Hadley, M. D., office 480 A.— No. 2255 Broadway, New York, telling me the disease they suffer from most, or their principal symptoms, age and sex, and I will give them a course of home treatment absolutely free of charge."

"Do you really mean that any one who is sick can write you to be cured, without paying you any money?"

"Yes, I mean just that. I believe that as a Christian it is my duty to God and man to help all who are in need. When I have been given the power to cure, I do not believe that I have the right to make any one waste his money on useless drugs when I can heal him without them. It is not alone the needless expense, but medicines and the surgeon's knife often do more harm than good, as even the medical profession will confess if they speak the truth. We all owe a duty to our fellow men we must all serve in one way or another. When a rich man gives money, I give health. I am not a millionaire, but I am able to afford to do my share toward relieving the sufferings of mankind. And I am happy to give freely of my services wherever they are needed. And I am especially anxious to cure any poor mortal who has been told that his or her case is incurable, that there is no hope left on earth; or any one who has grown weary spending money on drugs and doctors in a vain search for health. If they will write to me and accept my offer there is not only hope, but an almost absolute certainty that they need be sick no longer. And it is a blessing that my power makes a letter to me do just as much good as a personal visit."

MOURNS RACE SUICIDE.

East Smithfield Justice See Breakers Ahead for Nation.

Esquire Diton Phelps came up on the night express from Philadelphia and took the early train this morning on his way to his home in East Smithfield. He says that race suicide is increasing rapidly notwithstanding the fact that he advertises to marry the bachelors and maids off free of cost.

He thinks our country will go to the dogs if something is not done. He mourns over the fact that he served four years in Uncle Sam's army to save the Union and now there is such a heedless disregard of the folks to take upon themselves the bond of union that is so necessary to perpetuate that Union.—Valley Record.

If you can't catch on, hammer him who doth.

Official figures show that only 20 persons in Great Britain have incomes exceeding $250,000 a year.

There are too many born undertakers in most communities—men who are not only willing but anxious to assist in the burial of every public enterprise undertaken.

A Lebanon county woman was so proud of the showing made at her husband's funeral that she had the undertaker stop and count the vehicles in line so she could write her friends of it.

I bow my head to the step-mother who loves into manhood and womanhood children whom another has loved into life. She must have a great heart already expanded by love to do this.—The Philistine.

The crop outlook is good and now the report of the United States Steel company, that barometer of business, shows splendid conditions and orders for an enormous amount of work ahead. There will be no bread lines this winter.

Reports are published daily in papers in various sections of the state where children have been killed by eating or drinking poisonous medicines. Take time today and put all dangerous drugs out of the reach of the little ones.

Seven persons killed and fifty-four injured is the record made so far this year by the automobilists in Chicago. Although the year is but little more than half over, the figures show an increase over last year's record of one killed and seventy-three injured.

The cold temperature that has marked the nights of late has in it elements of danger, fully as great as the days when the mercury was hugging the 100 mark. Bowel trouble is easily aggravated by too scant clothing in low temperature and chills should be avoided as much as overheating.

A slick swindler has been holding up saloon keepers in Luzerne county and claiming to be County Detective Jones he has compelled them to pay money for selling him drinks on Sunday. The public clamor against the man is not so heavy as it might be from the fact that if the saloonkeepers were not violating the law they could not be blackmailed.

The new secretary of the navy starts out well. The clerks in the department who work six hours a day wanted half holiday. The secretary informed the clerks that their work was too far behind and further that the expense of the department must be curtailed. It is well to have at least one head of the department who will remind those under him that they are expected to work for the government as industriously as they would if employed by an individual.

The proprietor of this paper does not need money. In fact he has very little use for it, none whatever except for what it will buy. But he does appreciate good company and companionship, and there are a number of people in this county who are so far in arrears on their subscription account that they actualy avoid meeting us. For that reason we wish they would remit, and then the next time they come to town they can come in and visit us a while.—Dushore Review.

The Scranton Truth expresses the following sentiment which we hope is just as true of rural affairs as it may be in some of the cities: "Notwithstanding the evidences of graft in connection with municipal affairs which are occupying considerable space in the daily papers, it is manifest that "boodleitis" is on the decline. The tide of public opinion has been running so strong in opposition to "boodle tactics" that even the most crafty of the old-time grafters, who were wont to snap their fingers at criticism, have taken the hint. The people will not tolerate dishonesty in public life. They have learned to regard the grafter as no better than the pickpocket."

MORMONISM AND THE MORMONS.

Under the title, The Mormon Kingdom, Goodwin's Weekly of Salt Lake City publishes an illuminating editorial on the present status of the Mormons. This article shows that what may be well called the Mormon problem is constantly growing more serious, for as time passes the Mormons gain in strength, acquiring control of the city and state governments, the schools and the courts. They are now fighting to retain their first United States Senator in Congress, and as sure as he is left in possession of his seat it will be only a few years until both Utah and Idaho are represented in both branches of Congress by Mormons, perhaps by polygamists. It seems almost inconceivable that such an institution as Mormonism, as it is now constituted, should flourish on American soil. Many of its teachings and practices are in direct controvention of the Constitution and laws of the land, yet the government has never laid a finger on it. Some of its doctrines are so utterly absurd that one would hardly expect a child of average intelligence to accept them, yet thousands of men and women who in other respects measure up to the average of American citizenship, swear by them. The status of women under the system of polygamy, which it has been clearly proven is still a secret feature of Mormonism, is but little better than the concubinage of the Mohammedans, yet there are no stauncher adherents of Mormonism than the Mormon women.

The rule of President Smith and the Mormon elders is more absolute than that of an Oriental despot. No man can be a candidate for any political office without their consent. Private business affairs must be conducted according to their notions or not at all. And it is a sorry day for any Mormon when he dares run counter to the church, for it has its own methods of punishing recalcitrants. The Mormon question is one that Congress will have to settle and settle effectually some day, and the longer it is put off the more difficult it will become. The hierarchy has succeeded in securing immunity largely by playing one party against the other, and by managng always to be on the winning side. A Mormon is neither a Republican nor a Democrat, but a Mormon, and his church is as much a political as it is a religious organization. For either of the great parties to temporize with it may be good politics in one sense, but it is a poor kind of Americanism.

If the plans that have been formed by the Pennsylvania fish and game commission in conjunction with the state forestry bureau are carried out successfully this state will soon become a paradise for sportsmen. It is the intention of the forestry bureau to enclose large areas of the forestry reserves and to propogate game thereon. Just now the fish commission is engaged in a project that is of particular interest to Scranton sportsmen. An immense dam is to be constructed near Porter's lake in Pike county for the propogation of pickerel The state owns more than 10,000 acres of the land in the immediate vicinity and it is purposed to transform the entire tract into one vast fish and game preserve that will differ from private preserves only in the matter of being open to the public The contract for the construction of the dam has been let to Palmer & Son, of Stroudsburg, and work will be begun on it at once. The dam will be 228 feet long and will extend across the Bushkill Creek.

In the United States, in 1904, 17,500 automobiles were manufactured. Their value was $22,000,000. In fourteen states, Bradstreet's inquiries determine that in the year ended June 30, 1905, one hundred manufacturers produced 26,601 machines, valued at $34,650,000. Estimates of the capital employed in this industry place it at a little in excess of $21,000,000. Presumably these data practically cover automobile manufacturing, for there are many states where none are made. It is a remarkable showing and may be taken as a true indication of the prominent lead that this branch of business is taking.

For the next ten years, if the plans of the architects are approved, the City of New York will be building in installments the greatest hospital in the world. The cost of the enormous structure, containing twelve pavilions and embodying all the appropriate improvements of modern science, will be $11,000,000—something less than one-third the price paid for the underground railroad from the City Hall to the Bronx. The hospital will be the new Bellevue, of which a generation of overworked physicians have dreamed.

"I can tell the style of house decoration that is likely to suit a woman by the style of her gown," says the writer in "The Upholsterer." "When a woman comes in all frills and furbelows, and with the hundred-and-one little 'dinky' accessories, I show her the Louis and Georgian. If she is the tailor made sort I give her Mission and Arts and Crafts and simple Colonial.

ROOSEVELT THE PEACEMAKER.

The readiness with which the nations of the world are accepting the Uuiter States' lead in the effort to secure peace is significant. It means that all of them recognize the Uuited States' absolute disinterestedness in the adjustment of peace terms between Russia and Japan whatever they may prove to be.

The center of negotiations is not in London, Paris, Berlin or in any other old world capital, but in Washington. This country is winning a pre-eminence in the world's affairs which is calculated to increase the pride of all Americans in their country. The precedence which Washington is taking in peace negotiations and the hearty way in which our efforts are seconded from London, Berlin and Paris are a magnificent tribute to the United States' primacy as a factor in the world's civilization and progress.

Great credit is due President Roosevelt for his earnest efforts to secure peace. He has accomplished more for the cause of international peace than any other ruler in modern times. His reputation for courage and fairness is world-wide and he has the confidence of all nations. Overtures looking toward peace, therefore, have received greater consideration from the warring nations than they would have had had they come from any other source. Theodore Roosevelt has gained many marks of popular approval during his short political career but nothing he has done deserves higher commendation and gratitude from humanity than his efforts to bring to an end the awful war between Russia and Japan.

How little mere man can know of the capabilities of woman is shown by an incident described by Edward Everett Hale in a recent magazine. "I was at a dinner party in Buffalo five and twenty years ago," he says, "where we had the presence of a dozen of the first gentlemen in the world. We were talking of social adjustment, and one of these leaders said, 'There must be division of labor. We cannot expect,' said he, 'that the person who made for us this delicious soup shall interpret Beethoven for us. Each must do his part.' Then we went on with the dinner, and after three or four hours of most entertaining conversation our host rose from the table and said, 'We will come into the drawing-room, and the lady who made the soup shall interpret Beethoven for us.'" If any one is a master of all trades and a bungler at none it is the modern American woman.

Bernard Shaw believes that women wearing barbaric ornaments should be excluded from public assemblages. He tells as follows how he was affected by the sight of a dead bird on a lady's headgear while attending an operatic performance in London: "The lady, who had very black hair, had stuck over her right ear the pitiable crop of a large white bird, which looked exactly as if some one had killed it by stamping on its breast, and then nailed it to the lady's temple, which was presumably of sufficient solidity to bear the operation. I am not, I hope, a morbidly squeamish person; but the spectacle sickened me."

The appointment by Governor Pennypacker of Robert McAfee to be secretary of the Commonwealth to succeed the late Frank M. Fuller appears to give general satisfaction. While Mr. McAfee is a personal and political friend of both Senators Penrose and Knox, his selection by the governor is regarded as a personal one as the chief executive highly regards his ability. He has for some time been banking commissioner. The new office carries with it about $20,000 to $25,000 in fees.

A baseball score of 1 to 0 after bets that one side would score twice as much as the other is a gambling problem in Trenton, N. J. Experts of all kinds have been called in, and they disagree and divide about evenly. The New York Sun, as referee, says that as one is more than twice nothing, the parties who bet that the Y. M. C. A. would make twice as many runs as the other team win. This paper coincides but grieves to see betting on a Y. M. C. A. game.

Governor Pennypacker has appointer ex-Senator J. Donald Cameron of Harrisburg, David H. Lane, Philadelphia and Samuel H. Moody, Beaver, members of the commission created by the legislature of 1905 for the erection of a statue of the late Senator Quay in Capitol Park at Harrisburg. The legislature appropriated $20,000 for the proposed statue the design for which will be selected by the commissioner.

When Ida Tarbell was editing the Chatauquan, her first journalistic experience, she penned as legibly as possible the quotation, "The meek-eyed morn appears, mother of dews." She wended her way home at evening, feeling proud of how her memory had served her, but on opening the paper the next morning a feeling that she would be ashamed to meet any of her friends came over her when she read, "The weak-eyed worm appears."

A NEEDED REFORM.

A hurried canvass of the assessor's lists of Philadelphia, which has just been completed by the police of that city, shows that 32,000 names carried on the voting lists were fictitious, and it is believed that a more careful examination will increase the number to 50,000. These names represent the number of fraudulent votes that have been cast and counted.

This is an astounding result and justifies all that has been charged against the men who have controlled the politics of that boss-ridden city. The charges have been denied but in the light of this demonstration of their truth there can be no longer any question as to the duty of all citizens of Philadelphia. The men who are responsible for the corruption of the ballot in that city have already been swept out of power by the tremendous tidal wave of indignation that has overtaken them and for a time, at least, these disgraceful election methods will not be repeated. But to insure honest elections Philadelphia should have a system of personal registration and a non-partisan administration of the election laws. Happily this need so long denied will surely come and that at no distant day. An aroused public opinion throughout the state will demand it and it is hazarding nothing to say that the legislature to be elected next year will pass a personal registration law that will make impossible a repition of the election methods that have so long disgraced that city.

On board the cruiser Brooklyn, while on the trip to France, special tests made during the voyage to determine at what distances wireless messages may be received aboard ship from shore stations, show that the longest distance at which wireless messages were read during the day time was 540 sea miles, and at night 1,100 sea miles, while a wireless signal was heard at a distance of 1,780 sea miles. The message received at a distance of 1,100 miles, he said, came in so strong that doubtless it could have been heard at a still greater distance. The time is not far distant when it appears that a wireless message may be sent across the sea with as great ease as at the present distance, and we shall no longer need the cable.

A prominent Honesdale profession a gentleman discussing the impropriety of referring even in the course of conversation among friends to bodily or personal defects or to unfashionable or plain wearing apparel said that his father and mother, the first morning they started him off to school, instructed him to divide his dinner with a hungry school mate and to never from him permit the boy with a club foot to know that his misfortunt was observed.

Joseph Kuntz, who died at the state hospital at Hazleton, made a rather odd disposal of his estate. He decided that the $500 that was due him from a beneficial society should be used to pay his funeral expenses and provide each person who attended his funeral with a glass of beer. Another case of pasing around the bier.

A woman's conference lately in session at Bathurst, New South Wales, passed a resolution that all girls between the ages of 15 and 18 should receive instruction in the use of firearms.

INVESTING IN MEXICO.

There is an ever-increasing interest on the part of the United States people in Mexico. The rich natural resources of our neighboring Republic have been attracting the attention of our capitalists and they are pouring money into the country, with the sure expectation of reaping generous rewards in the years to come. Information concerning American enterprises in Mexico comes to us frequently, but we do not recall having seen in print any statement that gives such a complete idea of the extent of our interests in that country as one that comes this week from Philip C. Hanna, United States consul at Monterey. Mr. Hapna declares that $700,000,000 of American money is invested in Mexican mines, railroads, ranches, street car systems, electric light and power plants and manufacturing establishments. More than this, according to Mr. Hanna—and he is a man in a position to know whereof he speaks—nearly every successful enterprise in Mexico is managed by American capital. Mexico may never be annexed to the United States, as sometimes hinted at, but the indications are that in the days to come commercial and industrial Mexico will be practically in our hands.

Cyrus W. Field once engaged a young mining engineer to go to New Foundland to locate some coal fields in which the Atlantic Cable company was interested. "Can you start on Tuesday?" asked the great cable layer. It was then Saturday. The young engineer demurred. He had so many things to get together. He did not like to promise so early a start. "Young man," said Mr. Field, bringing his hand down on the desk with emphasis. "This mighty and wonderful world with all that is in it was made in six days. Do you mean to tell me that in two whole days you can't get enough traps together to go to New Foundland?" The young man started on time.

"OFF COLOR" POST CARDS.

Reach Dead Letter Office, but Not Parties to Whom Sent.

The postoffice department is conducting a crusade against impurity in the mails and is giving attention to the souvenir post cards that are at present so popular. In conformity to the orders issued by the postmaster general, all cards having a tendency toward the immoral, obscene or profane, are sent to the office at Washington and not to the person addressed.

Hundreds of designs just a trifle "off color" but which may be seen exhibited in windows of reputable stores in the city, town and hamlet, are among the tabooed. The fellow that "blows" in his penny for the card that bears the inscription, "I'm having a devil of a time," with the devil represented by a flaming red figure of his satanic majesty, will be greatly disappointed when he learns that the cent stamp affixed carried his cheerful message to Gen. Cortelyou instead of to his chum.

Amerman, A. B. Stevens and R. H. Holgate, of Scranton, and Hon. M. E. Lilley of Towanda. Dinner will be served by the ladies in the park.

REWARD FOR BRIDE AND GROOM.

Managers of the Bradford County Fair Looking For Two Lovers.

Notwithstanding this is the season for sighing lovers, and Dan Cupid is busy as usual, the managers of the Bradford County Agricultural society are yet looking for an eligible couple to be the chief actors in a public wedding ceremony at the fair in September. The association will give the couple who consent to be married publicly at the fair a handsome present, and there will be numerous gifts beside from local merchants.

Secretary Culver will be pleased to hear from any young man and woman who are thinking of matrimony and who would take advantage of the occasion to have the largest wedding party ever seen in Bradford county.

Arrested for Horse Stealing.

The horse and buggy stolen from a shed in the rear of Bacon & Ronan's store in Canton last Saturday night, and belonging to Ezra Williams, has been recovered at Newberry, Pa., and Ernest Williams, a small boy who lives with his stepmother on the road leading from Canton to Grover, was arrested for the theft. He was seen in Canton on the night the rig was stolen, and as he had endeavored to trade off the outfit, the officers believe him the guilty party.

This is, according to the reports, not Williams's first offense in the larceny business.

RAILROAD RUMORS WHICH AFFECT EAGLES MERE.

Said That Philadelphia & Reading Is After Resort.

An interesting rumor comes by way of Philadelphia concerning the proposed lease, by the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad company, of the Williamsport and North Branch railroad, the Eagles Mere railroad and Eagles Mere. Just how much foundation there is for the rumor people up this way are not saying. One man in authority said quite decidedly that he does not believe there is very much back-bone to the story.

The rumor, however, is of interest in itself, having, as it does, to do with the widely popular summer resort, Eagles Mere. The newspaper gossip from Philadelphia says:

"It has been learned from good authority that within the next year Philadelphia and Reading Railway company will be sole owners of Eagles Mere, one of the most popular summer resorts in this part of the country. At present the resort is not run in a manner acceptable to the people who patronize the place, and it has often been asserted that they have asked the Reading to take hold of it and make an up-to-date resort. Up to this summer the company has not given the matter serious consideration, but it is asserted that lately the company has been investigating and will no doubt take hold of it next summer. If the Reading leases Eagles Mere it will mean the purchasing of the Williamsport and North Branch railroad which connects with the Reading at Halls."

The purchase, or lease, of a property so extensive and valuable as is contemplated in the above scheme would be a transaction of more than statewide interest. If the Reading is really contemplating the purchase of Eagles Mere it doubtedless is not because the resort is not being creditably conducted—for Eagles Mere's popularity proves the progressiveness that characterizes its management—but because of the additional advantages that the Reading, as its proprietor, could lend it. It is the careful, and yet progressive and substantial management and equipment of the Williamsport and North Branch railroad that has made Eagles Mere's acessibility and reputation, hence it is very natural that any plan looking toward the purchase of the mountain resort should also include the railroad property. If the purchase really is affected by the Reading the Williamsport and North Branch, with the Eagles Mere branch, will probably be made a division of itself.—Williamsport Sun.

TRAGEDY AT NOXEN.

Man Shot His Wife and Parmour and Himself.

William Sulzer, of Ashley, shot his wife, Stella, and her companion, William Vivian of Ashley, at her aunt's home in Noxen, Wyoming county, on Wednesday night of last week, and then fired a bullet into his own temple.

The shooting is the outcome of Vivian's attentions to Sulger's wife, Sulzer suspected that they were intimate, and when his wife left to visit her aunt, he watched and followed her. He went to the house at midnight, broke into her room, and finding Vivian there, fired two shots at him, the bullets taking effect in the head and face. He then shot his wife twice near the heart, and fired the last shot into his own head.

The three victims of the tragedy were removed to the City hospital at Wilkesbarre. All are unconscious but it is thought that Mrs. Sulzer and Vivian will recover. Sulzer is fatally wounded.

Hungry Vandals.

REV. HERBERT H. GAVES PREACHED A TIMELY SERMON.

Discussed the Moral Results of Capital Punishment as Lately Seen.

Rev. Herbert H. Graves, pastor of the Church of the Messiah, Universalist, preached Sunday morning upon the subject, "The Moral Result of Bigler Johnson's Execution." Mr. Graves preached a strong sermon and handled the salient points of the case without fear or mincing of words. He advocates the abolition of the death penalty, and holds that imprisonment for life is the punishment most suited to protect society and fulfill the law of Christ. Statistics gathered from many prominent sources were presented to prove that wherever the death penalty had been abolished the results were good. He said in part:

"Last Tuesday by the authority of the State, and we are told by "divine sanction," Bigler Johnson was taken into the Bradford county jail yard and semi-publicly killed. We are assured by those who uphold capital punishment that the well being of society, the security of human life, the dignity and authority of the law demanded this execution. We are also assured that the killing was entirely successful. All was over in six minutes. In less than an hour and a half the body was buried. The tragedy is closed.

"What will be the moral results of Bigler Johnson's execution? When capital punishment is administered the presumption is that no other form of punishment is so just, so righteous, so reasonable, or effective. We have a right to expect good results. Some of these results began to reveal themselves before the hanging. What a spectacle! Men, women and children seeking to get a sight of the machine, the only use of which is to kill men. Others must see the man who was going to be killed. Anything that awakens such depraved desires in men will inevitably leave traces upon the character. Do you suppose that human life will ever again be quite as sacred to them? Did it serve as a terrible warning? Perhaps with some. With others its influence was just the opposite; It was fascinating. Photographs of the execution are displayed and for sale, as evidence of the refining and elevating results of hanging men. Oh, the shame of it all.

"Anything that lessens the authority of Christ's teachings is a danger to society Capital punishment imitates the crime it punishes; it is an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth.

"Men in all ages have sought to satisfy the conscience and find justification in the old testament. Brigham Young pointed to Solomon and David. The advocates of slavery pointed to its sanction by Moses. So it is that men unable to reconcile the command: 'Resist not evil,' with the killing of men by the State, shift the responsibility to the Almighty by way of a law given to an age between which and our own there is no analogy. It is bad logic and worse christianity for the State to say: "It is wicked for you to kill your brother, and if you do we will kill you." Killing men, though it be done legally, breeds that spirt in men out of which murderers are born. 'Sow one hanging and reap ten murders.'

"Society has no right to leave the criminal out of its consideration. The object of all punishment, rightly conceived, is reform. We hear that Bigler was converted. I doubt it. Admit it to be true. Then why kill him. I am heartily in accord with all that was done for Bigler Johnson's spiritual welfare, and do not doubt that he was better fitted to enter the next life. Fitted for heaven? No. Saved? No. Will be saved? Yes, sometime, if God succeeds.

"Let us aim to do justice to both society and the criminal, which we cannot do, however, so long as that relic of barbarism is on the statue book of any state, which assumes the prerogative of the Almighty, the only legitimate disposer of human life."

Has New Position.

Hamlin E. Cogswell of the Mansfield State Normal school has resigned to accept a similar position as director of a new conservatory of music and normal training school at Edinboro, Pa., in connection with the state normal school at that place. Mrs. Merritt Not in Jail.

APPEAL HAS BEEN TAKEN FOR CHARLES JOHNSON.

Writ Returnable at Pittsburg the Second Monday in October.

Johnson, on Saturday afternoon filed in the office of Prothonotary Wilt a writ of certiorari or notice of appeal to the Supreme court of Pennsylvania. MYSTERY SOLVED.

Believed That Man Now Dead Murdered Scranton Women.

The police have cleared up the murder mystery of the case of the Jay and Woodling women, who were found dead in their beds, on July 10 at Scranton, both having been killed with an ax.

The evidence is that the crime was committed by Anderson Carlin, a collector for a feed house, whose suicide on the day that the crime was discovered, occasioned much conjecture. The confession of Joshua Price showed that he and Carlin were with the women on the night of the murder and that when Price left Carlin was accusing the women of robbing him. He was a man of most violent temper. Carlin did not return home that night. He killed himself with a revolver at his home on the following day. Carlin was in trouble with his firm, having been accused of spending firm's money.

The new extension starts at the intersection of Main and Elmira streets in Athens and runs northward by the most direct route to South Waverly borough.

The new line will run directly through the property of the Sayre & Athens Real Estate Co., and will be a valuable improvement to that section.

Old Fireman Fell.

There were two fires at the home of James Moon at Sayre on Wednesday morning of last week, both put out before the firemen got there. Al. F. Thomas, former chief of the Sayre fire department, who is now an aged man, ran with the Sayre company. He became unable to keep up with the pace and fell, the cart passing over his ankle. Several ligaments were torn loose. Mrs. Moon collapsed from the shock of having two fires in her home so soon after one anther.

Just Try It.

Here is a catch. Put down the year in which you were born, to which add four, then add the age which you next birthday will make you, provided it comes before January 1, otherwise your age at your last birthday. Multiply result by 1,000 and deduct from this 694,423; substitute for the figures corresponding letters of the alphabet. A for 1, B for 2, C for 3 and so forth. The result will give you the name by which you are popularly known.

Tioga Stone Pile.

It is now expected that a "County Prison Board," composed of the president judge, sheriff and the county commissioners, will be organized soon in Tioga county and the prisoners in the county jail will be put to work cracking stone in the jail yard. There are so few prisoners in jail at Towanda that the stone pile is abandoned for the time being.

After Alleged Burglar.

Constable Guy C. Hollon went to Auburn, N. Y., to get Ernest Carpenter, a man indicted three years ago in this county for a burglary alleged to have been committed in Springfield township. Carpenter has just completed a term of three and a half years in the prison at Auburn for a similar offense committed in New York state.

OUTLOOK FOR CROPS THIS YEAR IS SPLENDID.

Barring Unfavorable Weather Prosperous Time Is Expected.

Unless unfavorable weather sets in and changes conditions materially, this year will be a prosperous one for Bradford county farmers. In nearly every section reports come that things "are looking fine."

The hay, wheat and rye is about all harvested. Hay is a good crop and is estimated as a two-thirds yield. Oats appear unusually good and are No. 1 in most sections of the county. What there is of barley is excellent but there is little raised in this section. Rye was fairly good. There is little raised of this crop. Wheat was a fair crop.

The early potatoes were good but there are indications that blight has struck the late crop. Corn is splendid, and is said to be the best in years. Buckwheat looks very promising and tobacco is coming on in fine shape. Apples will be very scarce, this being the off year for that fruit. While hay is a good crop it is not regarded as an extraordinary good one, the cold weather in June having retarded it some.

Fatally Injured.

William Spencer, a brother of A. D. Spencer, who was at one time the manager of the Towanda Motor Vehicle works, had both legs cut off at Monongahela, Pa., Manday afternoon of this week. He was run over by a street car. He was fatally injured and died the same evening. He and Mr. Spencer were in business together and had a large automobile garage.

JEROME CUTS LOOSE

Wants to Be Re-elected, but Not as a Party Candidate.

TO APPEAL TO THE PEOPLE.

New York's Fighting District Attorney Will Leave His Office Only by Public Mandate—Will Be Nominated by Petition of 2,000 Citizens.

New York, Aug. 1.—The subject of absorbing interest among politicians is the declaration of District Attorney Jerome that he desires to be renominated for his present office and will file a petition to make himself an independent candidate if the necessary 2,000 names be forthcoming.

The question whether the stand of Mr. Jerome would do away with any possibility of party indorsement was freely discussed. The Democratic organization leaders, such as McCarren and Murphy, however, declined to comment upon Mr. Jerome's statement.

This is what the district attorney says:.

"I do not desire and never have desired to be mayor of the city of New York.

"I desire to serve another term as district attorney of New York county. I have served in this office for three and one-half years as faithfully as I know how. I believe I have served honestly. I do not claim that I have not made mistakes. A man can insure his integrity, but not his infallibility of judgment.

Seeks a Referendum.

"But I do not purpose to remain in office by the grace of any man or group of men, and I shall retire from office only in consequence of the mandate of the people.

"When I say 'the mandate of the people' I mean precisely that, and I know of no way other than that provided by the election law of ascertaining what the people desire in such a matter.

"Therefore if at the proper time there are 2,000 electors in the county of New York who desire to have me run again for the office of district attorney of that county I shall cause a petition to be filed nominating me for election to that office and in this way submit it to the people of this county to say whether or not they desire me to serve them for another term in the office I now hold.

"To my friends it is not necessary to say that there have been absolutely no dealings with any political organization, political leader or group of politicians with reference to my candidacy for this or any other office and that I am now simply making public a purpose formed and communicated to a number of my friends as early as February."

Fever Situation at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 1.—Little change characterized the yellow fever situation. Of the five new cases mentioned in the official report of the city board of health in the preceding twenty-four hours only three are above Canal street in widely separated districts and traceable to the original zone of infection. Reports of convalescents are especially encouraging, and it is becoming evident that with careful treatment the present visitation of the fever will be shorn of many of its terrors.

Yale Tramps Have Close Call.

Catskill, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Blown out of their course while swimming the river here on a plank, Edwin R. Embree and J. W. Murphy of Brooklyn, Yale students, who on July 15 started on a tramping tour through New York and the New England states, landed in an exhausted condition in a swamp a mile south of this place. The students purpose to earn their living on the road by doing any odd jobs that come their way.

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 1.—"I am old and useless. There is nothing for me to live for," said William Roberts, eighty-six years old, of Sound Beach, Conn., on Saturday to a friend. He did not return home for dinner, and his daughter asked the Stamford police to look for him. Late on Monday afternoon his body was brought up from the sound with grappling irons. He had walked into the deep water to his death.

Carlton Held In $1,000 Bail.

New York, Aug. 1.—Frederick E. Carlton, the bigamist, was held in $1,000 bail for a further hearing Aug. 10 after his arraignment on a charge of circulating indecent photographs. He looked pale and sick. The Raymond street jail officials declare he has lost a pound a day since his confinement two weeks ago. Mrs. Eleanor Vandeventer, arraigned on the same charge, had her $500 bail bond continued.

GOVERNOR'S BOOKS FOR SALE

Pennypacker's Priceless Collection to Go Under the Hammer.

Philadelphia, July 27.—The rare historical library of Governor Pennypacker will be sold at auction early in the fall. The works to be sold all deal with the history of this country.

Much surprise is expressed that the governor should part with so rare a collection, considered by many to be the finest private one in the country. Every volume was collected by the governor himself and he has devoted a large part of his life to the work.

Among the books which will fall under the hammer are 160 volumes printed by Benjamin Franklin. These, together with about 200 old "Germantown imprints," are conservatively valued at $10,000. One of the gems of the governor's collection is a copy of the first Bible printed in English in America. Among other prizes is a diary of George Washington in manuscript. It was written at Mount Vernon, and contains remarks about the weather, the planting of crops and such things. There are papers of all the presidents down to Grant, and the marriage license of Abraham Lincoln. The governor also possesses a book from Washington's library describing the projected city of Washington. In it is a prayer that was used by the Continental army in 1775.

GIRL SHOT AT LIBERTY, N. Y.

Her Assailant, Wealthy Business Man, Fugitive From Justice.

Liberty, N. Y., July 26.—Cornelius McCormick, an extensive real estate dealer and one of the most widely known business men in Sullivan county, is a fugitive from justice, charged with attempted murder, and Miss Kittie Murphy is at death's door, the result of a bullet wound in the mouth.

The shooting of Miss Murphy occurred on the main street here in the presence of hundreds of persons and created intense excitement. The young woman was walking alone when she met McCormick. He carried the revolver in his hand concealed in a handkerchief, and she had no intimation of her danger until the weapon was discharged full in her face.

The bullet struck her in the mouth, and she fell to the sidewalk unconscious, with blood pouring from the wound. McCormick stopped but a second to view his work and then darted away between the buildings and disappeared. He has not yet been found.

It is said that McCormick had been attentive to Miss Murphy for some time, but that she discarded him for another suitor a few days ago.

TRAIN KILLS SIX.

Runs Into a Gang of Workmen Near Amsterdam, N. Y.

Amsterdam, N. Y., July 27.—Six men were killed and three others probably fatally injured by being struck by train No. 56, an accommodation on the New York Central railroad, at Tribe's Hill, six miles west of this city.

About a hundred men were engaged at work on a curve distributing sand which had been dumped there for ballasting purposes when they were obliged to step from track No. 2 to allow a westbound freight train to pass. Owing to the sand being whirled about in the high wind, a number of the men failed to notice the approach of No. 56, which ran them down. The men killed were all Italians, living at Fonda.

Wife Too Anxious to Please.

Pittsburg, July 31.—A decree of divorce was granted to Robert H. McConkey of Carnegie from Mrs. Mary McConkey. McConkey alleged that last winter he was very ill and that his progress toward recovery was materially retarded by his wife, who asked him every few minutes which undertaker he would prefer to have for his funeral. He says that in spite of his wife's expectations he got well, but decided he needed a divorce. The court agreed with him. McConkey is fifty-seven years old, and his wife is several years his junior.

Men Scarce In Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, July 31.—The general opening of many steel plants after a brief summer idleness usual at this season of the year brings forth a cry for more men. A great scarcity of laborers exists, which cannot be filled. At the W. Dewees Wood mills, in McKeesport, there is such a scarcity of men that it may be impossible to operate the plant to its full capacity for a time. Men are wanted in all branches of labor in and about Pittsburg.

SUGGESTION FOR A PARK.

"Citizen" Points Out a Location for a Public Playground.

To the Editors of Reporter-Journal.

The question is asked daily by strangers who visit this beautiful town: "Have you no public park?" and by the citizen of Towanda: "Why cannot we have a public park?" The building of the court house did away with the only place of the kind the town had, and in destroying that one breathing spot in the center of the town a grievous wrong was done, yet there is no reason why a beautiful little park cannot be had. There is at the corner of North Main and Walnut streets a plot of ground running the length of one square, shaded with friut and other trees and surrounded on the South, East and West by Walnut, Main and Cherry street and on the north by an alley, which would be an ideal spot.

It is centrally located—just a nice walk from all parts of the town, and it could be made into a very attractive little park at small expense. Now, if the Business Men's assoociation and the Village Improvement society would look into this matter I think the citizens of Towanda would do all in their power to help push the project along. Let every body think it over. CITIZEN.

Going on "The Togo."

The gallant flat boat "Togo" reached the port Towanda early Monday morning on the way down the river from Sayre on a two weeks' trip. The party on board spent Sunday at the Quarry Glen club house. Those on board are H. C. Thatcher, John B. Eddy, M. J. Hess, Theodore Shay, Percy L. Lang, John D. Merkle, H. C. Clapp, Joseph Adams, John H. Murray and W. H. Hopkinh of Waverly and Dr. C. S. Means and C. Obenauer of Towanda. The house boat is 14 by 36 with a waterproof top and convas sides. Everything was well arranged for an enjoyable trip. The party had some fine fishing on Saturday, 69 bass and a pickerel being landed.

Kuykendall Reunion.

The third Kuykendall reunion was held July 27, at the home of S. H. Kuykendall, Windham. Sixty of the relatives were present and were served with a very fine dinner. The toastmasters were Rev. At a business meeting held immediately after dinner Mrs. G. S. Russell was chosen president; Mrs. S. H. Kuykendall, vice president; Mrs. G. A. Dayton, treasurer; Nellie Kuykendall, secretary. Two deaths have occurred since the last meeting that of Mrs. Benj. Kuykendall and Wm. Kuykendall, both of Towanda.

Crazed by the Heat.

Nathan Slusser, of Tomhicken Valley, near Hazleton, is being closely watched by his relatives, who believe his mind has become affected by the recent hot spell Slusser is a farmer. Among his possessions are a white cow and white horse. These he tied to an apple tree and painted them a bottle green. There is a deep well on his farm, and he decided that this was a good place to keep his three pigs cool, so he lowered the hogs into the water. They were drowned. His family is convinced that he has been crazed by the heat.

Is It Right?

Is it right that a property-owner should lose $4 20 to let a dealer make 50 cents? A dealer makes 50 cents more on fourteen gallons of ready-for-use paint, at $1.50 per gallon, than our agent does on eight gallons of L. & M. paint and six gallons of linseed oil, which make fourteen gallons of the best paint in the world, at $1 20 per gallon; the property-owner loses just $4.20. Is it right?

It only requires 4 gallons of L. & M. and 3 gallons linseed oil to paint a moderate sized house.

NEW YORK FASHIONS

Pattern For a Pretty Tucked Shirt Waist Designed by Martha Dean—No. 6313

There is a very wilderness of new models in shirt waists, but the woman of taste chooses only those which will serve to enhance her own personal charms. The woman who is tall selects the model which will give her breadth of shoulder while preserving her slender waist line, while another who is not slender desires the same because it gives her slenderness of waist by broadening her shoulder line. For that reason the model shown will find favor in the eyes of the particular woman. The tucks stitched over the shoulder end at the bust line, while the center front tucks are stitched the entire length. The back is plain, with a few gathers at the waist. A stitched box plait closes at the waist in front, and large or small buttons will serve as fastening. The bishop sleeve is used with a narrow cuff. A stiff linen collar and bow tie may be worn with this blouse, or one of the soft embroidered or lace stocks. Linen, madras, gingham or silk may be used for the blouse, while any of the soft wool fabrics would prove pleasing for cold weather wear. Seven sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust.

Pattern For a Frock For the Boy or Girl, Designed by Martha Dean—No. 4800

The appareling of the little lads for the summer is just as much a question for thought as mother's own gowns. The boy is so busy a member of the community that his frocks are always becoming soiled or wearing out. This means a frequent replenishing and a good supply, and unless mother can fashion them they are sure to be quite an expense. The design shown may be used for either a boy or a girl and will be found very becoming to either. The narrow plaits stitched to a long waist line lend height to the figure and an air of sturdiness to the wearer. There are four plaits in front and back simulating broad double box plaits. The frock opens under the plait at one side of the front and is completed with a belt of leather or material. In place of the usual cuff small tucks confine the fullness of the sleeve at the wrist. The pattern also includes bloomers, which are gathered at the knee on tape or elastic. White or blue butcher's linen or pongee will develop this into a fetching and serviceable wash frock, while challis or any of the light wools will serve for cool days. Sizes, 2 to 6 years.

NEW YORK KIDS IN COUNTRY.

Want to Take Fruit and Animal Life Home, and Go for Beer.

The New York freshair children, now on farms about Newville, in Cumberland county, do some very amusing things. Among the anecdotes of them are the following:

One boy found a peach tree and pulled green peaches. When told he must not do that he tried to put the peaches back on the limb.

Some of the boys climb trees trying to catch tne birds, and one caught a robin and tied it to a stake, intending to take it home.

Another filled his pockets with grasshoppers and toads intending to take them back to New York. The same boy was up early Sunday and washed his shirt in the wash basin.

Two boys got up early Sunday and pulled two bushels of green apples and asked the farmers to put them away until they could take them home.

A sweet-faced little girl who was stopping with a kind-hearted lady on Saturday asked the lady if it was not time to go up town and get the beer, as she always had beer on Saturday nights.

One little girl whose head was cut by a hoe after it was tied up said it was as good as being at a "ospittle."

A littie boy when amazed at the moon was asked if he had never seen it before and said "Yes, ma'am, I saw it one night when I was over in Brooklyn."

HER HUBBY WENT.

Saw the St. Louis Female Stars Play Base Ball.

On Wednesday the St. Louis Reds, a female ball aggregation came to town and crossed bats with Triton base ball team on Triton park at Tunkhannock, says a correspondent from that place. Several strong minded females of the town had their own ideas of the visitors in the abstract, and they vented it and studiously refrained from giving it countenance.

One lady was particularly strong in her utterances, and remarking that she would "sit on the porch and see the depraved men of the town who had attended the game," posted herself on her front porch and commenced upon the robust citizens as they came along and had just finished a highly embellished comment when, lo and behold her own dear hubby disentangled himself from the moving throng, surging on home from the game, and entered the gate and sauntered up on his porch. It is well to draw the curtain at this stage of the game.

A Peculiar Accident.

George Crayton, an employe of the Belmar factory at Canton met with a very peculiar accident. While running a band saw he fainted, and as he fell to the floor his head rested against the rim of the wheel. He remained unconscious for a time and when he rallied his head was still against the wheel, the motion of which had burned quite a ridge over his eye. Dr. Manley dressed the injury, which is not serious. None of the employes saw the accident.

Farmer Met Death.

Michael Heffernan, a well known farmer residing a few miles north of Tunkhannock, met death in a peculiar manner late Thursday afternoon as he was going about his duties on the farm. He had been engaged all day harvesting his crop of oats. Quite late in the afternoon he commenced to draw them to the barn and while riding on one load that was quite large, had the misfortune to fall off. He landed on his head instantly breaking his neck.

Oh Shaw!

Since May 27 the police have wanted the man who broke a large pane of glass in B. A. Chamberlain's building at the corner of Main and Lombard streets. Saturday afternoon Chief Miller arrested Albert Shaw for the deed. Yet the man is still wanted. Shaw was taken to the office of Justice Orcutt, who happened to be busy. He requested permission after a time to go to a closet across the hall. Then he skipped.

A Mile of Pennies.

Somebody with a penchant for figures has figured out there are 840,088 pennies in a mile. We shall take their word for it. The Epworth League of the M. E. church has undertaken the task of raising a mile of pennies to help pay the new church debt and want to realize this fund by the first of the year. This is a unique idea and we hope will win. Save your pennies! The League will be after them.—Wellsboro Agitator.

MUCH CANDY POISONOUS.

Food Commissioner Warren Has Made Startling Discoveries.

Dr. B. H. Warren, State dairy and food commissioner, has announced that his agents had obtained evidence that much impure candy and cake is being sold. He said that his attention was called to the matter by parents who had been advised by physicians that the stomach ailments from which their children were suffering was due to their having eaten "doctored" candy and cake sold in the neighborhood of their homes.

Dr. Warren said a chemical analysis of the samples obtained by his agents had disclosed the fact that mineral pigments or ochres had been used to make artificial chocolate. He said that, in many cases, it had been found that in some artificial chocolate layer cake the "chocolate" consisted of ordinary pigment and glucose, while a coal tar die belonging to the azo group, many of which are poisonous, had been substituted for eggs in the cake itself.

He said that chocolate fudge had been discovered that was nothing more or less than paint and glucose. He said his counsel, State Senator Brown, was preparing a case that would mean the arrest within a few days of a well known Philadelphia manufacturer in connection with the sale of artificial chocolate in local stores.

KILLED IN MICHIGAN.

Former Laceyville Man Met Death in That State.

W. W. Dimmock, who formerly lived at Laceyville, was brutally murdered recently at Masonville, Mich., ten miles from Escanaba, his body being found under a pile of railroad ties.

A bullet had been fired through the head at the base of the brain, the body evidently searched for valuables and then covered with the ties. All the evidence indicates that the murder was committed for the purpose of robbery, although this was somewhat negatived by the fact that the murderer failed to take the watch of the dead man.

Walter W. Dimock was born at Laceyville, Wyoming county, Pa. He belonged to one of the oldest and most influential families both socially and politically, in northeastern Pennsylvania. His maternal grandfather was a banker and his paternal grandfather a member of the legislature and a prominent politician. He has an uncle who is a banker in Scranton, Pa.

A Peculiar Accident.

A peculiar accident happened to the south window in the Ward House pool room last week, a telephone cross arm falling through it. One piece sticks out on the outside and the glass around it exactly fits the hole made by the projecting timber, none smashing. Several long cracks, however were made. The work though is just a neat bit of deception, the glass not being broken at all. The cracks are made with soap and one piece of the cross arm is glued on the outside of the window while the other stands against the inside of the window.

OLD LADY WAS WISE.

Wasn't Going to Let Any Men Help Her.

At the performance of Ringling Bros. circus at Binghamton the timidity with which a number of the strangers took up the problem of walking up the tier of seats without loosing their balance was sometimes amusing. One old lady, whose cheeks were flushed with the excitement of "goin' to the circus," balked at first on ascending the "bleachers" in the reserved section to the row in which her chair was situated.

At length, with the aid of a couple of ushers and her daughter, she gained the place, but when the performance was concluded the ushers had disappeared and the old lady was in a dilemma as to what was the best way in which to reach terra firma. Although a number of men in the reserved seats offered to assist her, she refused all aid and crawled down on her hands and knees going carefully from one tier of seats to another. A number of people attracted by the strangeness of the sight, had stopped to watch the old lady gain the ground.

When she reached the ground she turned to her daughter and brushing off the front of her black silk skirt said: "You may think I'm foolish, Belle, to come down in such an outlandish fashion, but some of those men looked to me like pickpockets."

WILL CALL A MEETING.

Supreme Council to Hear Protests From Members.

Supeme Regent Howard C. Wiggins of Rome, N. Y., head of the national organization of the Royal Arcanum stated in a letter received at Harrisburg by Supreme Representative H. B. McNutly, of Chambersburg, Pa., that he will call a meeting of the supreme council to consider the protests against the recent legislation of the supreme council increasing the insurance rates of the order.

Mr. Wiggins wrote that he had already received twenty-nine petitions from supreme representatives of different states and he is assured of receiving enough more to make up the thirty-nine which require him to reconvene the council, as well as the required petitions from seven states. The time and place of the meeting are yet to be determined.

Might See Another.

Sheriff Riddell went to Towanda the other day to witness the execution of Bigler Johnson. The train was scheduled to reach Towanda at 10 a. m., The depot is two squares away from the jail yard. The hanging was at 10:03. The result was the Sheriff arrived four minutes behind time.

"Oh, well, I didn't care to see it, anyway, I've seen enough of 'em," said the Lycoming Sheriff.

Ten minutes later, through a Williamsport newspaper man who was there, Sheriff Riddell learned that Jim Salerno had murdered his stepdaughter in Williamsport and was in jail.

"Gee crickets!" whispered the sheriff hoarsely, "maybe I'll see another one."—Williamsport Sun.

Wyalusing Won.

Wyalusing and Ulster played ball at Wyalusing Thursday afternoon and the former team won by a score of 5 to 0. The game was practically decided in the first inning when Wyalusing made five hits, netting four runs off Davidson. Only one hit and one run was made by Wyalusing during the remainder of the game. Cotter pitched for Wyalusing and Ulster made but one hit off him in the entire contest. M. and J. Madigan and Kline also played with Wyalusing and Lynch with Ulster. One of the features of the game was a phenomenal one handed stop by Larkin, who played second for Wyalusing. Only 29 men faced Cotter in the entire nine innings.

Killed His Step-Daughter.

James Salerni, an Italian, who is already under $1,000 bail to answer several serious charges, early on Tuesday cut the throat of his fifteen-year-old step daughter, Elizabeth Carney. The girl died a few hours later in a hospital. Salerni was captured later in South Williamsport. A few days ago the girl had Salerni arrested on a serious charge, but he was released on bail. Early today Salerni gained entrance to the girl's room through a window and made a vicious attack upon her. Her screams frightened him away and she was hurried to a hospital. After his arrest he confessed to cutting the girl's throat.

LINTAS AT BINGHAMTON.

Elaborate Preparations Being Made for Their Entertainment.

"After nearly thirty years of separation the local Fountain Hose Fire company and the Linta Hose company of Towanda, Pa., will on August 24 be reunited.

"For the annual parade in this city in August, the 'boys' will again be united and by most of them it is thought that it will be the last time, as there is every evidence that the custom of parading will soon be dropped, when the fire department becomes a paid instiution, as it will eventually.

"For entertainment the local company will give their visitors a dinner at the Bennett. The parade will follow and then the company will have a trolley ride about the city to the most interesting points. "Over seventy-five Linta members will be present with their band and from all reports there will be 'doings' in the town from their arrival unti their departure."—Binghamton Republican.

FATALLY INJURED.

West Burlington Teacher Met With Peculiar Accident.

A sad and peculiar accident occurred Tuesday of last week in West Burlington. Elijah Ward, a school teacher, was working in a hay field, when the load turned over. Mr. Ward received a broken leg in the fall, but the doctor who set the limb, discovered no other injuries. About 11 o'clock that night, Mr. Ward became suddenly very ill and died in a very few minutes, no doubt having received some internal injuries not apparent when his leg was set. The funeral was held from the M. E. church of West Burlington.—Troy Gazette-Register.

Commendation for Sheriff.

Much praise is given to Sheriff Stephen F. Robinson by all the newspaper men who witnessed the execution of Bigler Johnson July 25 for the perfect arrangements which the sheriff had made for the hanging and which resulted in one of the most humane executions ever performed. A veteran newspaper man who had witnessed a number of hangings stated to a representative of this paper that the execution in its dispatch and perfectness was the most remarkable one he had ever seen. He also stated that he never saw a man approach the gallows with such composure as did Bigler. Many of the newspapers expressed surprise at the kind expression on Bigler's face, and its lack of the brutal features that are expected in a murderer.
